

Question 16

(a) Two factors that affect access to services for the socio-economically disadvantaged are lack of money and transport.

If a family has no income, then their needs and wants are affected. ~~If they want to access services, they may~~ Without an income the things that most people take for granted are disadvantaged. Transportation would be greatly affected. Without the income, a car would be ~~an~~ unaffordable. To pay for public transport would be hard, as it could be a whole family who are socio-economically disadvantaged. This would make it hard to access services.

(b) Two groups that have their security, and safety needs met by housing, are Sole Parents and Aborigines and Torres Strait

Islanders. Both groups are very socio-economically disadvantaged. They both live hard lives. As both groups are given funding by the Government, they are certain that some money is coming into the family. Which means their ~~own~~ security in a home is met. If they have money to pay for rent both security and safety needs are being met. They must ~~not~~ make sure their home is safe and secure for all involved.

(c) Government policy and community structures have influenced societal attitudes towards Aborigines and Sole Parents within the community.