

media, frontline, The siege & we ain't got dames.

The siege is about a guy had ~~the~~ kidnapped and took her to his place, the police had surround it all around and no media were aloud to get close to the scene the frontline was about 200 meters from the scene, front line had it live ~~on~~ on TV so everyone can see that front line are ~~not~~ telling the truth, but behind that they had got the number of the guy who had kidnapped the child, they called him up and spoke to him during that time they had it live and Mike Monro was talking to him and he also spoke ^{to} ~~the~~ the girl, when he was talking to the ~~camp~~ girl the guy took the phone off her ~~of~~ and can hear gun shoots, after few hours the police ~~was~~ went in and took the guy who had kidnapped the child.

we ain't got dames is about shooting off countries from P.N.G Mike Monro was there and some are ~~also~~ also took his spot for the week, it's not a True story, because when Mike went to p.m. 6 the army they were on hold to shoot, but Mike told them when he speaks so the two ~~army~~ army can shoot so everyone can ~~then~~ think that it's true, also so everyone can watch frontline they ~~then~~ think that everything that they say it's true the week gone pass Mike had come back to the studio and went back where he was doing.
