Dear Mr Phil Somerville

I thought it was very creative how you used contrast and juxtaposition to convey your cartoon. I am writing to you today not about your cartoon but an experience you and I shared. A life and death experience has the ability to change a person in a variety of ways. ~~Write~~ I am writing to you today to say my near death experience has changed my life for the better. I now see things in ways I would never have seen before. I am now more confident in the way I approach others. Compare this to the way I was before this experience.
