

Perspective

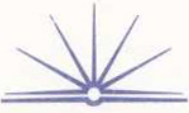

Different perspectives can be able to influence by individuality, personal history and culture into our lives.

Perspective means a point of view, we are able to find ~~a~~^{different} perspectives from the texts or our lives.

Let us refer to a drama which is called "Whose Life is it Anyway". This ~~is~~ was a movie shown in 1972. This movie showed about a patient and a doctor that we can find different perspectives between those two characters.

We can ask ourselves if we all read the text that "Does a doctor have to keep patient alive ~~&~~ or does not have to?"

The patient came into the hospital because he had ~~at~~ a terrible ~~acc~~ accident and became a paralytic human which is called a human vegetable. All he could do was to think and chat with people.

The ~~name~~ name of a paralytic patient was Ken Harrison ~~and~~ and his consultant physician was Dr. Emerson.

Now, between these two characters Ken and Dr. Emerson, there we can find difficulties and perspectives on them.

Ken Harrison was not able to move as he lost his movement and feeling as a paralysis. It was his fate and ~~look~~ there was no purpose to live. To request a doctor for a mercy killing, that would be the one of his perspective. In our lives we might think about it if we were a paralysis. Are we able to live with ~~our~~ a stolen privacy ^{from} by the others? we would not live ~~with~~ like that.

Ken Harrison was ~~the~~ patient that ~~look~~ kind of a patient, It was his life but it was not a real life as he could not do anything by himself. He had to live instead of him as it was his fate. That was why he requested his doctor ~~of~~ whose name was Dr. Emerson. But Dr. Emerson did not do Ken's request because to do a mercy killing is also a ~~quite~~ quite guilt and he ~~th~~ knew that was not his responsibility as a consultant physician. If I was Dr. Emerson, I ~~went~~ would keep Ken Harrison's life because I have a same mind with Dr. Emerson that to keep a human's life and to fix an illness are my responsibility. It is the perspective of a doctor.

As we found two different perspectives between a patient and a doctor ~~fore~~ from our lives there are many difficulties ~~at~~ by the different perspectives.

Perspectives would be influenced by our mind ~~and~~, our images that how we look like and our styles. Perspectives can be found in a part of language technology we can say,

~~Poem~~ Poetry. ~~Poetry~~ Poetry is a

It is a kind of visual language but different that we find a meaning and a perspective from the language technology.

Let we refer to a poem which is called

The door. It is well known of Miroslav Holub. The character of this poem should ~~be~~ ~~ourself~~ be one's-self. The poetry

ask us to do what the poetry wants us to do. There are 5 stanzas and repeated

"~~The open~~ Go and open the door".

This is actually meant an action with an object but it tells a perspective that ~~o~~ try have an experience for your ~~life~~ life, ~~to~~ have a go for a dream even there is a hopeless which
