

Question 1

Text 1

a) Paul Smith is 25-year-old and chose to be a skysurfer, also he has been skydiving for nine years. He jumps off planes some 14000 feet up in the sky with a parachute strapped to his back and a surfboard fastened to his feet, performing acrobatics while freefalling at the breakneck speed of 120 mph. Everyone knows it's too dangerous to be a skysurfer, and most of people doesn't dare and want to do that. That's why many people think it's 'incredibly stupid.'

b) Paul Smith likes flying in the air. In his perspective he thinks it's actually feel safer in the air and you are the master of your own destiny. He doesn't have to always look behind or someone might steal your bag. He feels very freedom and relax. Also he thinks he's like a kid and feel can do anything you want. Paul's dad encourage him to the first jump. When he did first time and he keep thinking do it again, do it again. That's Paul's perspectives of his sport.

c) It uses big character which are THUD and SPLAT. It makes us feel the words are important.

d) The article uses very detail language to describe skydiving, how good it is. Also uses different language technique to shown.

Text Two

e) Let us feel if you're on the harbour bridge you can feel you're flying. Similar as skydiving, feel comfortable and freedom.

Text Three

f) If you're a cliffhanger, your heart will beat very fast, throat-tightening, pulse-pounding and sweaty palms suspense. It told us how feeling when you're cliffhanger.

g) In text Two it uses very soft language and formal languages. But in text three it uses informal languages.

BOARD OF STUDIES
NEW SOUTH WALES

Newspaper Centre

11 Elizabeth ST

Town Hall NSW 2067

[Redacted]

[Redacted]

[Redacted]

[Redacted]

Mr / Ms Madam:

Hi, I'm just a newspaper reader. I read three texts on newspaper yesterday which about skydiving and kind of flying sports in the air.

After I read it, I feel it's too dangerous to has that kind of sports. I hope every peoper are very safety in the world.

I wish you can write a very short text on the newspaper about stop playing dangerous sport and can increas popularity of adventure activities.

Thank you very much for reading my letter. I'll look forward your newspaper.

[Faint, illegible handwriting]