

(a) Many people consider Paul Smith's choice of ~~the~~ career 'incredibly stupid' because they think that ~~it~~ is dangerous and ~~it~~ could consider ~~to~~ suicide.

(b) Both comfortable and encourage perspectives are expressed by Paul about his sport. ~~comfortable~~ ^{this} perspective is shown in his wording "let's do that again"

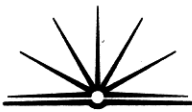

(c) Repetition is used in paragraph 7.

The repetition of "down-to-earth" emphasises Paul really enjoys his sport. It also reinforces his comfortable and exciting perspective in his sport. sky diving. therefore, repetition is used to demonstrate his perspective.

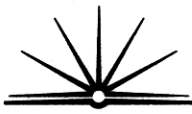

The article uses large ~~amount~~ number and show examples to engage the responder. The number such as "28000" people did the first skydive and "85" years old ray did sky-diver. This persuaded the people sky diving is a fun thing. The use of Paul's example such as Paul enjoys the sport and also his girl friend also love skydiving, all of these has reinforced the responder ~~to~~ that sky-diving is a good exercise.

(e) The purpose of the Text two is to encourage the people to ~~visit the~~ join ~~the~~ bringe climb in sydney harbour.

(f) The meaning shows the feeling of cliffhanger. Using of "heart-thumping, throat-tightening, pulse-pounding" emphasise the exciting of cliffhanging.

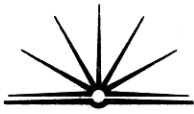

(9) Positive perspective is presented in both texts two and three. In text two, listing and picture image are used to demonstrate the positive perspective. The listing of such as "home" "history" and the "climb" emphasizes the optimistic perspective of the tour. The facial express of a lover laugh emphasizes the happy time they have in ~~the~~ on the bridge. Therefore, positive perspective is demonstrate through listing and picture image in text two. On the other hand, The positive words such as "fun" and "entertaining" demonstrate the positive perspective in text three. Furthermore, ^{the Big font of title "CLIFFHANGER (1993)" and} the image of "heart-thumping, throat-tightening, pulse-pounding" emphasizes the adventure and fantastic of the cliffhanger. Therefore, positive perspective is presented in text two and three.

Dear Editor,

I am writing to about suggesting increase popularity of adventure activities. I viewed the guide of entertainment and leisure. I feel love to join the adventure activity. As I can experience the feeling of the sky-driving and cliff hanging. The adventure sport is quite positive to our society. Firstly, It is quite fun and exciting. Secondly, it is a creative sport on the sky, not just the boring sport ~~depend~~ with the feet stick on the ground everyday. Finally, it is not dangerous, this all can be shown in Paul Smith's ~~daily~~ sky diving. He gives the ~~audience~~ readers totally feel the exciting, ~~and~~ adventure, ~~of the~~ safety and all the positive value. ~~I also~~ ^{of adventure sport.}

The adventure sport also ~~increase~~ ~~helps a~~ ~~increase a~~ ^{increase} a person's ~~ability~~ ^{thinking and} doing the things independently, ~~that~~ I hope there is more adventure activities in our society.
