Start here for Question Number: 23

a) Drop down Menu's with your answer in it. This ensures the user is selecting 1 the correct answer, rather then the user typing something that is invalid.
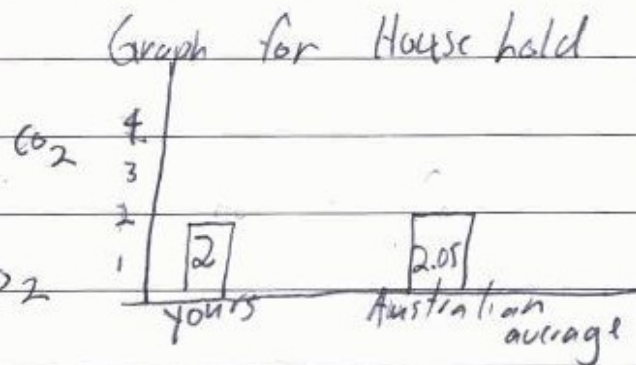

b) The developer wants to make it more user friendly and quicker to do. It is faster to chich an image then to type an answer.
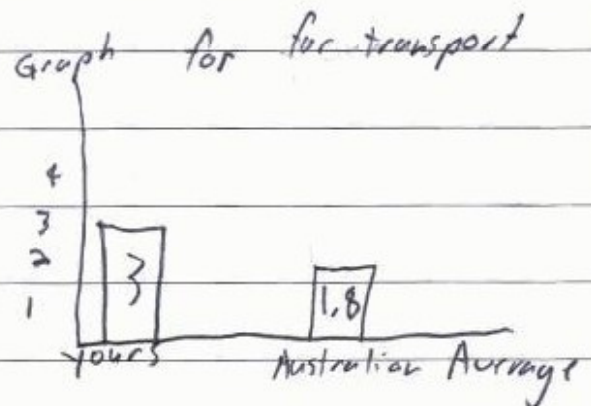

Question 23

My foot print.

Graph for House hold

House hold total: $2\ CO_2$

Australian house hold average: $2.05\ CO_2$

CO_2 graph: Yours = 2, Australian average = 2.05

Graph for for transport

Transport total: $3\ CO_2$

Australian transport average: $1.8\ CO_2$

graph: Yours = 3, Australian Average = 1.8

Your total carbon foot print: $5\ CO_2$ total users: 1000

Australian average total: 3.85

d) Cars, trains needs to be tested to see how much Carbon footprint is left behind. It needs to get information on everything it asks for, the averages of each of the staff. When the information is submitted it compares your information with other information seeing averages. when the information is submitted, it adds up the Carbon foot print for each question before displaying it.