

ii

Albert Speer's role as ^{an architect,} wartime armaments minister and supposed personal friend of Hitler was an active one in the war machine.

Albert Speer is said to have extended the wartime period by supplying his armaments factory with concentration camp workers. This helped in increasing the production of artillery.