

BOARD OF STUDIES
NEW SOUTH WALES

a.) The physiological characteristics of an overtrained athlete include, sore, tender muscles, decreased  $\text{VO}_2 \text{ max}$ , decreased lactate threshold, early fatigue, less ability for muscles to tolerate lactate, increased resting heart rate, atrophy of muscle fibres, decrease in aerobic threshold + anaerobic threshold.