

Start here.

ii) The way of reducing this health issue is by limiting the amount of advertising during set times and ~~more~~ promoting better health for individuals. This would lead to a healthier lifestyle and better choices for individuals and most importantly young people. We could also advertise healthier choices of food for everyone. This would enable us with much more control and would assist us in making better and ~~healthier~~ <sup>healthier</sup> choices.