

Question 22 (3 marks)

In large scale electricity generation, mechanical energy is converted to electrical energy.

(a) Explain this conversion process.

1

This process is called generation and is done by a source moving a conductor through or around a magnetic field which produces electricity.

(b) Identify TWO renewable generation technologies that use this process.

2

Generators, Wind Turbines